four world premieres

ProArteDanza's Season 2007 features FOUR WORLD PREMIERES by three of Toronto's hottest choreographers: Artistic Director, Roberto Campanella; Artistic Associate, Robert Glumbek; and Matjash Mrozewski. All four premieres are made possible in part through generous contributions to the New Creations Fund. For information on how you can help bring the next wave of ProArteDanza choreography to life, see page 4 of this newsletter.

ProArteDanza is moving to a larger venue! Following three SOLD OUT seasons, the company returns with a thrilling programme of contemporary and classical dance at the Premiere Dance Theatre. ProArteDanza is delighted to be programmed as part of the Harbourfront Centre NextSteps series, where Torontonians have come to expect some of the world's most cutting edge and highly respected dance companies.

Artistic Director Roberto Campanella has once again invited the most outstanding dancers from both the classical and contemporary dance worlds to perform in the season. The cast of dancers includes: Laura Bolton, Guillaume Côté, Tara Butler, Kate Franklin, Leonie Gagné, Alyson Fretz, Luke Garwood, Robert Glumbek, Sandra Joanovic, Stacey Shiori Minagawa, Matjash Mrozewski, Heather Ogden, Julie Pécard, Anisa Tejpar, Angel Wong and Brendan Wyatt.

Artistic Director Roberto Campanella has had a busy summer. In April, he remounted Unforeseen, and created a new work, Revealed, for ArtsUmbrella in Vancouver. Unforeseen was performed in Montreal as part of L'Ecole Superieur's Dance Showcase. In June, ProArteDanza dancers were the featured performers at Fashion Cares, choreographed by Roberto and featuring guest artist Rex Harrington. Roberto recently returned from an engagement with Joffery Ballet South where he taught master classes and created a new work. Following the Toronto season, he will travel to Augsburg, Germany, to remount Flights of Fugue, which premieres this October in ProArteDanza's Season 2007.

Robert Glumbek has won Best Dancer in Now Magazine's Best of Toronto poll. In May, Robert Glumbek traveled to Mannheim Ballet in Germany to remount and perform in the pas de deux Still, originally choreographed for ProArteDanza in 2006.

Roberto made his directorial debut to film the calm below. Featured in Season 2006, the calm below was choreographed for Guillaume Côté and includes an original piano composition by Guillaume Côté. Produced by award winning dance filmmaker, Moze Mossanen, the calm below will premiere soon on BRAVO!

Orchestra Toronto has commissioned two new ProArteDanza works to be performed at the October 2007 and May 2008 concerts at The Toronto Centre for the Arts. Roberto Campanella and Robert Glumbek will jointly choreograph the two pieces.

We are thrilled to tell you that negotiations are under way for a ProArteDanza tour in Japan slotted for July 2008! We are also planning tours in Western Canada and in Quebec over the coming years.

Congratulations to ProArteDanza guest dancers Stephanie Hutchison and Johanna Bergfeldt who are each expecting their first baby at the end of the summer. We look forward to having them back on stage in 2008!
